

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

I am deeply troubled at the concentration of media in the control of corporations close to the mean-spirited republican right wing. After they stole the last election, they now hope to control the information flow in what was once a free country.
